Skipworths from around Horncastle

Introduction

Throughout the nineteenth century, this group of families, descended from William Skipworth, an agricultural labourer of Thimbleby, and his wife Ann Croft, have generally remained quite close to their point of origin. The majority have continued to be agricultural labourers. Those who did move away were likely to move some distance, attracted by employment opportunities in industrial Yorkshire, in the army, and by emigration to North America.

The first to try Yorkshire seems to have been Samuel's Henry who moved as a bachelor in the 1860s. He was followed in the mid 1880s by his cousins Albert and Benjamin, both of whom had wives and families before they moved.

The census records show that it was quite common for the children of agricultural labourers to be away from home in their early teens, as farm boys or domestic servants. Where the relationship to head of household in a census is given as servant this means a live-in employee. It could be a domestic servant in the modern sense, but it could also be a labourer or a trade employee. The original census image will often clarify ambiguous cases. By the end of the century new occupations were creeping in as some established small farms or businesses, for example: publican, iron moulder, market gardener, railwayman.

To guide the reader through the first four generations a chart is included on page 4 showing all descendants mentioned in the text. Charts for earlier forebears and collateral lines can be seen at www.genealogy.ianskipworth.com/pdf/skipascaistorcharts.

The chart shows William and Ann with 8 children, 27 grandchildren, and 65 great grandchildren. However, only male lines have been followed beyond the first generation. If female line descendants had been included as well the population expansion would be even more obvious.

Apparent inconsistencies have arisen in these and other Skipworth families through individuals changing the way their names are expressed. The order of Christian names may have been reversed, or a second Christian name added, or adopted as the sole name. Occasionally, a different name altogether seems to have been substituted.

There are also occasional inconsistencies in the places of birth as stated in the census returns, particularly when a young person has left home. Either the person filling in the census return was not accurately informed, or the subject remembered the place they grew up, not the place of birth.

Transcription errors have crept in, both in compiling the original returns, and in the production of modern indexes. However, unless otherwise indicated in the notes, I am reasonably confident of the identifications because of the relative rarity of the surname and the completeness of the census coverage every ten years.

Inconsistencies in ages can be due to difficulties in reading the census returns, but it also seems that some of these people may have been unsure of their ages.

I would be pleased to be notified of any errors or additions at the address below.

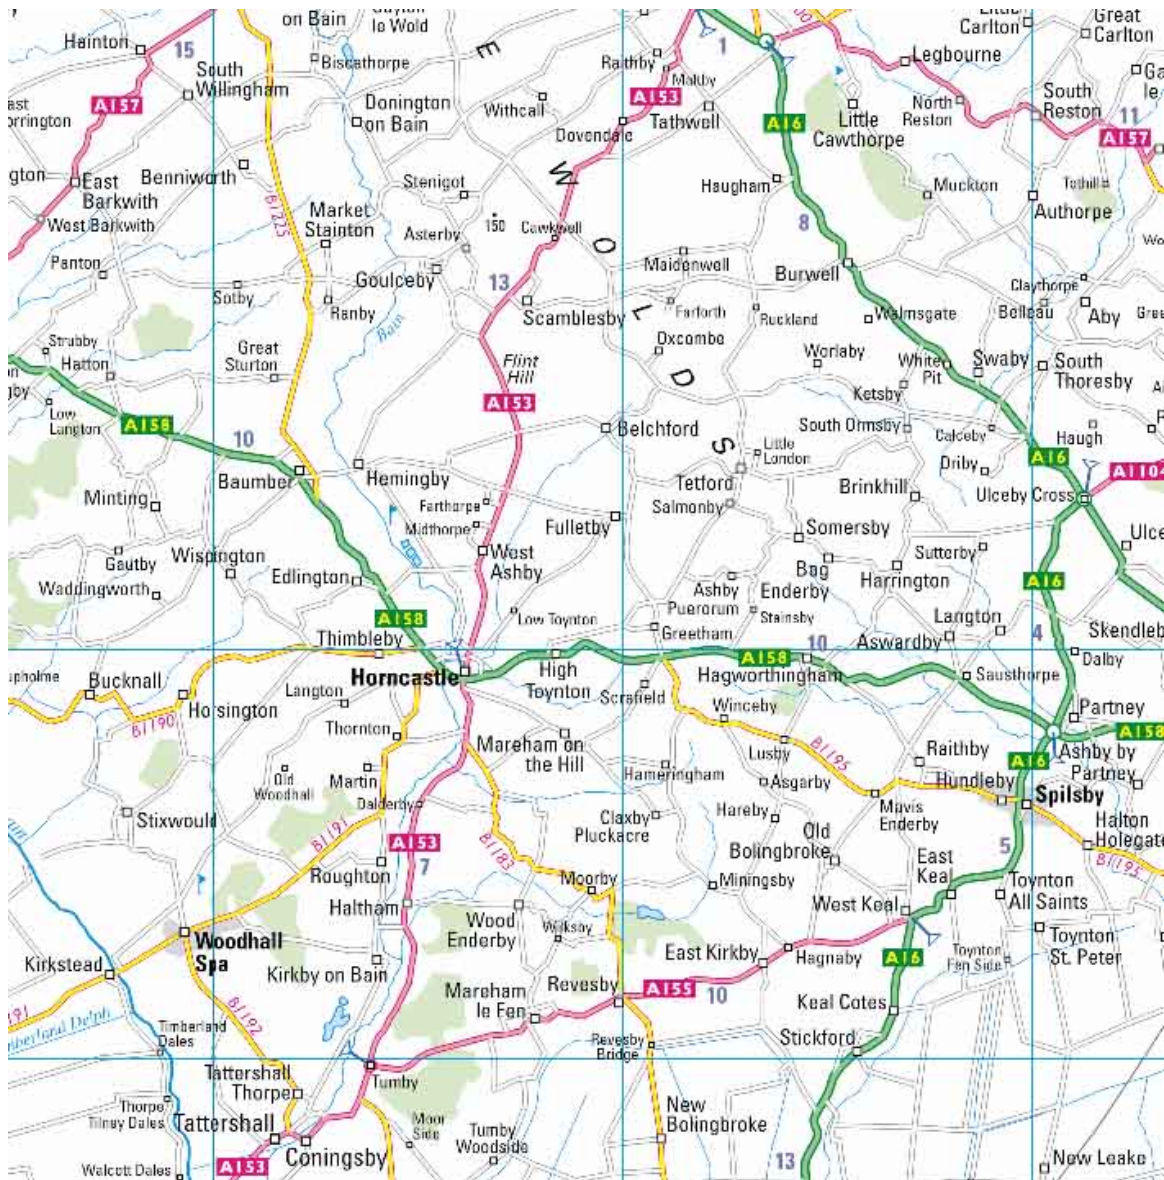

Some abbreviations used:

RD = Registration District (for births, marriages, deaths)

CWGC = Commonwealth War Graves Commission

[Note: FamilySearch.org has attributed a number of records for this family to Claxby Pluckacre instead of Bucknall. This appears to be a problem of misidentification of the register on the film.]

Chart of Four Generations

First Generation

1. William SKIPWORTH of Thimbleby, Lincolnshire.

This William has been identified with William, christened on 28 Sep 1783 in North Reston, son of Edward Skipworth and Mary Walker, grandson of Edward Skipworth of Grimoldby and Jane Seabright. Refer my document Descendants of Edward Skipworth of Grimoldby for details of William's relations, and In the Beginning - Skipworths of 16th to 18th centuries for his earlier forebears (both at www.genealogy.ianskipworth.com).

Discovering William's position in the family has been made difficult by an unfortunate series of errors in recording the vital events of his life. I am indebted to Dawn Smith and her cousin Lynn Taylor who have assembled the case for identifying William of Thimbleby with William son of Edward and Mary Walker. They have assisted further in bringing together details of the life of William's eldest son, Edward.

Thimbleby is further from North Reston than labourers usually moved, so although I had noted the possibility of William's origin at North Reston, I had rejected its likelihood. The record which persuades me is the 1851 census, which shows that William stated his birthplace as "Reston." The following list summarizes William's life events with explanations of the errors incorporated in them. Images of key documents appear on the following page.

1783: baptism at North Reston
1803: marriage at Thimbleby, birth of children there 1805-1811
1813: daughter Ann christened at Haugham, he had returned briefly near to his place of origin, and his eldest son would later live at Haugham.
1815: son John bapt Scramblesby
1817: abode poorhouse [Thimbleby] in his son Samuel's baptism, and daughter Elizabeth's burial
1823: labourer, village [Thimbleby] in his daughter Elizabeth's baptism
1839: death of wife Ann at Thimbleby
1841: (January) age 52, labourer, marriage to Sarah Dawson age 42, at Thornton
William's age was reduced to produce a 10 year age difference.
1841: census - age 55, with Dawson in-laws at Thornton - no children with him (ages rounded)
His name was recorded William Dawson, copying the head of household's surname for all residents
1851: age 46, born Reston, ag lab at Kirkstead, with wife and a Dawson granddaughter
Couple's ages reversed by the recorder, should be William 54, Sarah 46, 8 year difference this time
1861: age 63, birthplace not recorded, ag lab at Kirkstead, with wife 53, no children
Still understating his age, but maintaining a 10 year difference from his wife.
1865: age 81, death at Kirkstead A correct age in the record at the last!

It is hard to judge whether the understatements of William's age were to spare his wife's feelings or because he was genuinely unsure of his age, probably a bit of both.

William married Ann CROFT in 1803 in Thimbleby.^{1, 177} Ann was born about 1780 and died on 7 Jul 1839 in Thimbleby.^{2, 177} Ann's age 55 in the burial record, 61 on death registration.

Marriage confirmed Thimbleby Parish Register, both of this parish, both made their mark rather than signing, first marriage for both.

Their children were:

On 1 Jan 1841 at Thornton, William, a labourer and widower aged 52 was remarried to Sarah DAWSON, servant and spinster aged 42, at Thornton Parish Church.¹⁷⁵ Their witnesses were Richard and Henry Dawson. All the parties made their marks rather than signing. She may have been Sarah DAWSON, daughter of Robert and Sarah, christened on 3 Feb 1782 at Market Stainton, Lincolnshire.

In 1871 she was probably Sarah SHIPWORTH, born Thornton 1798, lodger at Langton Moor. Sarah has not been found in the 1881 census. She may be the Sarah Skipworth who was buried at Tattershall, age 76, abode Horncastle Union [Workhouse], on 17 Aug 1876,⁴ as the age matches her age at marriage.

Second Generation (Children)

2. Edward SKIPWORTH (*William of Thimbleby*¹) was christened on 4 Mar 1804 in Thimbleby.² and was buried at Haugham on 11 Feb 1826, aged 21 in burial record.

Edward Skipworth married Charlotte WRIGHT at Tathwell on 1 Feb 1825, both signed the parish register, both of this parish, only witness Jos Longhton.

In 1824 an Edward Skipworth signed the Tathwell Bishop's Transcript as churchwarden. Rachel Ely has compared his signature with that of the Edward who married in 1825 and found it different in several respects (E d r S t). The conclusion is that there were two Edwards, uncle and nephew, both married to Charlottes. The other Edward was Edward Skipworth of Tathwell 1777-1857, refer to Descendants of Edward Skipworth of Grimoldby.

Edward and Charlotte had a daughter:

10 i. Charlotte SKIPWORTH 1825 -
